The Herald is indebted to the officers of the State Horticultural society for a box of delicious, prize-winning ruit, such as was exhibited at the hall of relies last week. Utah is a world-beater in the fruit line and all on the staff of this paper who shared in the gift wished that the fruit season would never end.

Since the edict went forth that all users of water was are in arrears with their water taxes would have their service connections cut off, large numbers of delinquents have besteged City Treasurer Morris office to pay the municipality's demands and save themselves the inevitable inconveniences and penalties for further delay.

The State Fish and Game Protective association met at the old city half last night, but no business was transacted and an adjournment was taken until Friday evening, Oct. 21. The notices of the meeting failed to state whether it was the state of county association and the confusion resulted in a very light attendance of members.

A meeting of the state board of horti-culture was held yesterday afternoon to wind up the affairs of the fruit display, which has been held during the past week. The board also outlined the matter for the biennial report, which will be sub-mitted to the government in December. The next meeting will be held on the tirst Monday in January.

The statement that Arnold G. Giauque had been appointed to an ecclesiastical position which would make it necessary for him to leave the city and that consequently there would be a vacancy in the membership of the board of education is erronecus. Mr. Giauque has not received any ecclesiastical appointment, and has no intention of leaving Salt Lake.

A novel record was made in the county clerk's office yesterday when Annie O. Tietjen and Tina O. Tietjen, twins of the age of 29 years, performed their parts in the application for marriage licenses. finance committee were all there, in-cluding Mr. Haigh of West Jordan, who came in to assist the boys with his presence and counsel. Chairman Fichnor was very tender with this committee, firing a lot of visitors from his private office in order that they might have the room to meet in undisturbed by the common fellows who would persist in making inroads into the small room where the committee first assembled.

Block captains are being appointed, who will make a canvass of the city. Several reported last evening. The work of making a canvass will begin as soon as the finance committee reports progress. The patriots in the party are all willing to work, but they have to he assured of progress on the part of the finance committee ere they can be nduced to go ahead with the work.

H. N. McGrew was at headquarters gesterday giving the boys some pointers. Mc is an old campaigner and when he lived in Omaha was a trusted and tried man in the ranks. He is giving Eichnor some needed instructions these days and if the chairman accepts the hints it is very likely some valuable results will be achieved.

The Republican ladies have decided to start the campaign and will hold a meeting in the Second ward on Thurs-day evening. It will be inside the Sixth ward assembly rooms and everybody is going to be invited. Good speakers will be in attendance and a rattling old time is slated. People are invited to come early and avoid the rush, for it is said that 50 or 60 people have expressed an intention of going.

Peter Condie, Benner X. Smith and Peter Condie, Benner X. Smith and Art Graham are a trio of officials or would-be officials upon who the most of the boys are going to concentrate. It looks as if they would be singled out for election, while the balance of the ticket will be left to take care of itself. Condie especially is to be boosted with all energy. The friends of this candidate, who are legion since the fact that he has a barrel has been made public, are going to trade everything for their man, in case voice cannot be obtained othern case voies cannot be obtained other-vise. Offers of all the ticket for a vote or Condie, Smith and Graham will be made, but if the voter kicks, then smith and Graham will be sloughed off and a vote for Condie will mean a vote or the balance of the ticket.

This is 'inside information and has seen kept very quiet for a time, but is eginning to leak and the balance of the candidates are getting anxious and vill doubtless demand an investigation

At present Mr. Stewart is interested in pushing colonial enterprises in our sister republic, where he has some valuable grants and concessions. He now holds complete and perfect title to the lands in his grants. Speaking of matters in Mexico, he said, in substance:

More money has been expended by Americans in Mexico during the past two years than ever before, and more will be expended there each year.

will be expended there each year. The low price of silver has given an impetus to manufactures of all kinds. Mexico is by no means a great manufacturing country as yet, but manufactures are growing there and will continues are growing there and will continue to grow.

In Mexico everybody is satisfied with the silver standard, and there is neither agitation nor desire to change it for the gold standard. The national debt is a gold debt, and interest on it has to be paid in that metal. This presents no difficulties. difficulties, for now exports exceed imports about 75 per cent, and this gives plenty of foreign exchange. Manufactures now are 90 per cent greater than before the fall in the price of silver. Asked as to whether there was any apprehension in Mexico over the question of annexation, Mr. Stewart said there was some, but it was very little. He says that both the Mexican people and the Mexican government have the greatest desire to maintain the most friendly relations with the United States. He believes that Mexico has a great future; that it is about to enter upon an era of prosperity and development such as it has never known. His faith in the country and its possibilities is unbounded. Mr. Stewart expects to return about Nov. 1. pects to return about Nov. 1.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Grand's second week opened last night with a big house, but with a show hardly up to the standard Manager Mulhardly up to the standard Manager Mulvey had expected to maintain for his house. One does not look for too much from an attraction playing at popular prices, and of course the same rules of criticism are not applied as when speaking of presentations at the other house, but in all candor it must be said that the Clara Thropp company does not come up even to the plane of the average we look for in second-rate companies. Miss Thropp, herself, is a lively dancer, and the dancing throughout is the best feature of the entertainment; but little can be said for the singing of any of the people. The orchestra won a well deserved round of applituse for an excellent rendition of a "Maritana" selection.

The Home Opera commany goes on piling up the box office figures at an astonishing rate. The third performance of the "Queen's Lace Handkerchief" went last night before an audience that packed the bouse back to the wails, the S. R. O. sign being hung out at 6 o clock. The recalls were of the most veciferous sort, the grand finales being specially appreciated. Miss Savage was in better form, while Miss Fisher's advancement is so marked as to excite continual comment. The comedy work of Messrs. Spencer, Campbell and Mrs. Brown drew the heartlest appiause, and Messrs. Goddard, Pyper and Gill came in for the same share of favor. The Sait Lake engagement closes tonight, the house again being nearly sold out. Logan will be visited temerrow. Provo on the 17th, and Ogden on the 18th. Said Lee Chesney: "Tam guilty of defending myseif." and a like response was given by E. Pickersing. Chesney declared that when he and a companion quit work at the Beel Hive they were followed by Smith and Pickering, who called them "sheeneys," and applied other insulting epithets, which family precipitated a fight. Polly Smith, keeper of the "Big Five," on Commercial street, claims that her house was burglarized Sunday morning early and $100 stolen. One of the inmates left town Sunday, which, the police think, furnishes a clue to the affair.

INSPECTING THE PAVEMENT.

THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS HOLDS A STREET SESSION.

Pursuing the Culmer-Jennings Pav ing Company to Make Satisfactory Repairs.

The novel sight of the members of the board of public works meandering along the streets was presented yester day afternoon. The board was in adjourned session inspecting the asphalt journed session inspecting the asphalt pavement, and every few moments either Mr. Hale, Mr. Caine of Mr. Seddon would make a motion. Chairman Kelsey put the motions and Secretary Sears took notes in short hand of the proceedings. All this transpired on the streets. This mode of procedure was justified by the exisencies of the case, and every action of the board was marked with unanimity.

SPECIFYING THE DEFECTS.

Yesterday morning opened with the continued rafusal of Secretary Boemer of the Culmer-Jennings Paving com-pany to heed any order of the board respecting the repairing that is going on in the pavement in order to put it in the "perfect condition" required by the contract preparatory to the final acceptance of the work by the city. In line with the determination of the board on Saturday to accede to the paving company's request for a bill of specifications as to wherein the pavement is fications as to wherein the pavement is defective, the board yesterday marked for identification each section of unsat-isfactory pavement, together with the extent and nature of the repairs required by the city government, acting quired by the city government, acting for the abutting property owners who have paid for first class work to make it acceptable. On Second South street east of Commercial there is a lot of undulating pavement, and the board decided that the asphaltum covering must be torn up and relaid according to contract. The board's inspection was not completed and will be continued on Thursday.

PREPARING FOR A LAWSUIT. It is believed that the Culmer-Jennings Paving company will resist every order of the board and the city engi-neer and trust to the generosity of the city council to make the wind-up easy, that is to let the paving company be the judge as to whether it has fulfilled the contract. Supporting study a turn the contract. Suspecting such a turn in the concluding scenes, the board is Used Bad Language.

Charles Brown, an ex-soldier of the the law and the contract, to order such repair work as may be needed to make the pavement on Main street and First and Second South streets acceptable to the city. It is quite probable that yes-terday's proceedings will be one of the issues in a law suit that seems inevitable before the Culmer Lennings comable before the Culmer-Jennings com receives its retained percentage of $6,846.13.

WELL SATISFIED.

The merchants and business men of the city reaped a good harvest last week and the narvest is not quite over yet, as there are still a goodly number of conference and Eisteddfod visitors left in the city making purchases. With a view of determining to what extent our friends from the country spent their money when in the city, a Herald reporter yesterday interviewed the leading merchants in the various lines of trude.

Ines of trade.

Inquiry at the offices of the Rio Grande Western and Oregon Short Line railways as to the probable number of visitors hauled into the city was made, and the combined figures foot up in round numbers 12,000 adults, 7,800 by the Short Line and 5,000 by the Rio Grande Western.

The church president's office was visited and the authorities were of the opinion that the figures were not overestimated, and they thought that at least 3,000 came into the city from the least 3,000 came into the city from the neighboring towns, making a total of about 15,000 visitors.

Accepting those figures as a correct estimate for the four days of conference, the next question is: What amount of money would, or rather did. each visitor spend on an average? The principal merchants and a number of the leading bankers were asked for an opinion as to the minimum amount each visitor probably spent, and the predominating opinion was that $10 each would be a conservative estimate. It will be seen that at that very low It will be seen that at that very low estimate the merchants, hotel and restaurant keepers and generally speaking, the city of Salt Lake, is in actual cash $150,000 better off than before conerence convened.

MERCHANTS WELL PLEASED.

The next question is, with whom do the visitors spend their money? A tour of the business district was made and a report requested of the various mer-chants as to whether or not they were benefited by the conference trade. The dry goods merchants seem to have been the heaviest gainers, al-though the grocers, hardware dealers and shoe people came in for a good

The sweet tooth is not entirely absent among our country cousins and the candy merchants report heavy Jewelry stores do not increase their force of clerks for the conference trade, but those who carry spectacles come in for considerable patronage.

The restaurant keeper and bakeries did a thriving trade, while the laundry is not entirely overlooked. Whether or not this was an excep-lonally good conference trade came up for investigation and the various mer-thants were asked as to the relative figures between this and past conferences. All agreed that this conference trade was far in excess of anything in the past and some of the larger houses said that their trade was twice that of any past similar season

BOUGHT BETTER GOODS. One of the prominent Main street shoe dealers said that the people seemed to be of a better class this con-ference, they were more particular as to what they purchased and generally chose a superior article to what they were formerly given to buying. The bankers reported increased de-posits from the merchants and, all in all, the city has every reason to be well satisfied with the business done.
